

LOST

22 Oct. 2021 @ Between Putney and Clapham (On buses or the ground)

This is a little red note book with lots of writing in it. Half completed. It has random thoughts and journal entries. The notebook is POCKET sized. It's been a while since I lost it but I still think about my reunion with it. First page is a conversation I had with my dad. Some notes about songs, living in the woods, and anything random. Back cover of notebook has a sleeve. Cannot remember if it has anything in it. Please please contact me if you've seen it. (Adam, 24 May. 2023)
